

Guess
who needs a flu shot?

You
do!

If you are pregnant and catch the flu, it can lead to serious medical problems for both you and your baby.

Get a flu shot. The protection you get from a flu shot may also be passed to your baby.

Check with your doctor or nurse today about where to get your preservative-free flu shot. If you go to a pharmacy, you may need a note from your doctor.
